

Specialty medications are high-cost oral, injectable, infused, or inhaled medications that are either self-administered or administered by a healthcare provider, and used or obtained in either an outpatient or home setting. LDI specialty drugs have the following key characteristics: need frequent dosage adjustments, cause more severe side effects than traditional drugs, need specialty storage, handling and/or administration, have a narrow therapeutic range, and require periodic laboratory or diagnostic testing. Listed below are drugs managed by LDI Integrated Pharmacy Services.
